Before leaving for his camp in the Adirondacks Friday eventpg. Timothy L. Woodruff, after his conference with National Chairman Hitchcock, told his political associates that has mind was defrenomination of Governor Hughes Mr. Woodruff was not speaking for the public ear and his remarks should not be taken as official utterances of the Republican state chairman. As reported, however, they are interesting in the way of side lights on Woodruff's real attitude toward the governor's candidacy.

"I venture to predict," Mr. Woodruff is quoted by one of the Brooklyn leaders as saying, "that Gov. Hughes will not have one hundred delegates in the state convention. I don't know where he is going to get any, but I'll risk niy reputation as a prophet that he will not have one hundred delegates."

Some Wanted Their Money Back, but the Crowd Generally Was Good-Natured.

The conquest of the air is far from being achieved if the performance of Beach yesterday afternoon was an accurate measurement of the things airship builders have accomplished. The aeroplane did not fly and did not even attempt to fly. Its failure to start was a persons who had paid to see the first public flight of a heavier-than-air flying machine in America.

The breeze was so strong that Farman did not dare attempt a flight. He was urged to make a trial and save the first day of the airship show from failure, but, She. Runs at Large, Foam hours, he announced that he would not start.

"It would be simply suicidal to attempt to fly in this wind," announced Thomas R. MacMechen -- manager of the Farman exhibition. "I know you do not want, to see Mr. Farman killed, and he would surely be killed and his aeroplane rulned if he tried to go up in this wind."

The breeze was then blowing at a speed varying from ten to fifteen miles an hour, with an occasional gust estihour. The U. S.
